IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR PLANNING YOUR WEDDING PHOTOS

The timing is very important. Late afternoons or early morning is best. Try not to have your photoshoot at midday.

Do try to exclude guests from taking photos by following the photographer. This reduces the rate of photos being taken very drastically.

Allocate a photo co-ordinator whose function will be to call family and guests to have their photos taken and consider having the elderly family members first on their list of calls.

In all selections, if you are using our videography services as well, the time our photographer(s) is on site will be dictated by the videography time you have selected.
